

Nature, Space & Politics

Fall Open House Reception

To launch the year and re-connect, we invite you to a reception with food and refreshments

Thursday, October 13, 2022 @ 4 pm
Communication Building Outdoor Patio

Please help us out by filling out this RSVP (for catering) before October 5th

We are thrilled to have received renewed support from the International Institute for the 2022-2023 academic year. Our theme for the year is Elemental Ecologies. We continue to deepen our thinking on the forging of alternative futures by expanding on last year's focus on border(ing) processes, and the refusals of their constitutive violence. How are atmospheric elements conceptualized by different scientific, legal, political, and activist knowledge and practices? How do these contested terrains force us to rethink the very idea of the future in a world where crisis is the norm rather than the exception?